About Jesse Phillips

I am a pastor in Central Florida where I have lived for 10 years. I am the founder of a group called Citizen2Citizen (www.Citizen2Citizen.us) that exists to equip Christians and other conservative individuals with the tools and information necessary to fulfill our God-given mandate of effective citizenship under the laws of our country. My passion is to encourage people to take seriously their responsibility to be active in our constitutional republic in order to protect life, preserve the traditional family, and defend our freedom to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ. The public square should not be spared the influence of the gospel by the passivity of Christians.

I spent the last six months interviewing candidates, political consultants, pastors and other local leaders. Based on my research I am making these recommendations for the August 24 primary election in Orange and Seminole Counties.

Please understand that I am making these endorsements in my capacity as an American citizen only. I am not speaking on behalf of any organization or expressing the views of my church or Citizen2Citizen. These references are for identification purposes only.

I hope that these recommendations serve you.
